Edwardsville Young Woman Remembers Reward When Housebreakers Try Front Door.

CAN'T HIT MOVING MARKS.

Skipping Around Among Trees Men Escape Despite Efforts to Bring Them Down-More Bullets Await Thieves.

Five efforts to win the $25 prize that Ar galus Stubbs, Chief of the Edwardsville Polics Department, offered for a burglar, were made by Miss Lillian Wenner when she discovered two at her home. The reward reads for any burglar, dead or alive. and as there were two at the Wenner and as there were two at the Wenner home Miss Lillian tried five shots at them, but she was unsuccessful.

The family resides on North Second street, and consists of mother and four daughters, all grown. They were about to retire at 10 o'clock Thursday night when Miss Louy saw two men creeping into the front yard on their hands and knees.

They drew up close to the house and one of them told the other to try the blinds. About that time Florence suggested that Lillian try a shot at the intruders, and Lillian went for her revolver. The men heard a slight noise and suddenly decamped.

heard a slight noise and suddenly de-camped.

Thinking they had imagined it, they re-turned in ten minutes. Miss Lillian was waiting back of the blinds and, when the men tried the front door she opened fire. The fellows dodged and skipped around among the trees and, although the young woman tried to hit the moving targets, she failed to bring one down. No more burglars appeared that night.

The girls put in an additional supply of cartridges and another revolver yester-day. All are good shots and claim that their misses Thursday night were owing to the darkness and the men dodging around the treees. There are no men in the family, but the mother and daughters do not know what fear is and are ready for any emergency.

DOG'S BARKING SAVES A FAMILY

Members Aroused From Sleep Just in Time to Escape From Flood That Submerged Their Home.

The barking of a dog aroused the fam ily of Frank Conrad, whose home is in a low place near the Richland Creek, Belleville, early yesterday morning, and saved them from a severe drenching at least, and possible death.

The sudden rise in the creek owing to the severe rains of Thursday night submerged the Conrad home, and almost carried it away. The dog, which was kept outside the house, barked so loudly that Mrs. Conrag was awakened. When she arose there was three feet of water in the house, and the dog was on top of his She hurriedly aroused the rest of the

She hurriedly aroused the rest of the family, and they hastened to a high place. They were unable to save anything except the clothing they were, and that was wet. Neighbors cared for them.

Considerable damage was done along the line of the Richianal Creek, and several washouls on railroads entering Belleville were reported. On the Illinois Central road near Ogles Station a washout caused a freight wreck, in which several cars were ditched, but no one was injured.

EDWARD H. BOWIE, Local Forecaster. RACE PROBLEM EXTENDS

English Policy Has Encouraged Kaffir Insolence and Also Indolence to Alarming Extent.

TO SOUTH AFRICA.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Washington, July 15.—"We have a negro problem in South Africa that I fear is going to bring serious trouble on the country at no distant day," said O. M.

Gericke of Aberdeen, Cape Colony, "The danger lies in the vast preponderance of the black race all over that part of the world. In Cape Colony they outnumber the whites at least three to one "Ever since the Boer War the negroes have been so independent that they refuse to work, even when offered good pay. Of course, the people cannot afford to give them as much as they made in war times, but this is made an excuse for refusing to do any labor at all. The British policy of coddling the natives has been in Probably Will Be Nominated for Congress To-Day.

J. Nick Perrin of Belleville, one of the wheel horses of Democracy in Southern Illinois, will in all probability be nominated to-day at East St. Louis as the candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket for the Twenty-second District.

Up to last evening there were no other candidates so far as is known. Although Mr. Perrin has declared he was not a candidate, it is believed that he will accept the nomination if it is tendered to him.

The convention will be held in the auditorium of the East St. Louis City Hall. changed that and the ignorant Kaiffrs now consider themselves the equal if not the superior of all whites."

New Requirements Adopted.

At the last session of the State Board of Health in Kansas City the requirements were adopted that will tend, the member were adopted that will tend, the members of the board believe, to raise the standard of the medical profession in the State. Every applicant for a license shall present documentary evidence of having a university, a college, or a high school degree. In lieu, the applicant must pass an examination before the State Superintendent of Public Instruction in the subjects embraced in a four-year high school course. The requirement went into effect July 5 and all the colleges in the State have been notified.

James Hanley, a trackman employed by the Wahash Railrond, was struck by a freight train while at work near Sarah street vesterday afternoon and sustained injuries which probably will prove fatal. His right arm was literally torn from its socket, carrying away a large portion of the chost, and his right leg was severed at the knee. He was taken to the City Hospital, where he lies in a precarious condition.

9348-GIRLS' TUCKED DRESS. 6, 8, 10 and 12 years,

Girls' Tucked Dress, No. 2348—Gray is not looked upon as a particularly youthful color and is not often used for children. In the light shades it is, however, very pretty. A charming little sult is shown here developed in oyster-gray brilliantine with red and gray embroidery for trim-mins.

white rea and gray embrodery for trim-ning.

The foundation is a fitted body lining that closes in the center back and is faced with contrasting material to a shallow yoke depth. The yest has a box plait in the center which is decorated with small yoke depth. The vest has a box plait in the center which is decorated with small garnet buttons.

Two tucks extend from shoulder to belt, back and front. The waist blouses well all around over a narrow belt. A broad satior collar is included in the neck seam at the back, with a shallow collar land. It finishes the sides of the full fronts and extends over the sleeves in a becoming manner.

One-piece bishop sleeves fit the upper arm well and are quite wide at the lower edges, where the fullness is gathered and arranged on wide waistbands.

Five gores in the skirt are fitted smoothly around the waist and hips without darts. The closing is made invisibly at the center back under two inverted plaits that are flatly pressed. Theke on the front and lack gores are stitched down half way and flare below the point where the stitching scauses. They retain their patted folds to the hem and provide additional sweep at the lower exert of the skirt. Bands of embroiders are applied on the collar and at the top of the hem. The skirt is attached to the lower edge of the body and the joining concealed by a narrow belt.

Dresses in this style are made of cashmere, albatross, mercerized wash fabrics, and soft silks, with lace or stitched bands of self-fabric for trimming.

To make the dress for a girl of 8 years will require four and one-quarter yards of material 35 inches wide and one-half yard of lace for the yoke. The patern, No. 324, is cut in sizes for girls 6, 8, 10 and 12 years.
